HERMES TRADUCCIONES IS GRANTED THE LINGUISTIC QUALITY CERTIFICATE BY FUNDÉU BBVA DUE TO THE LINGUISTIC QUALITY OF ITS WEBSITE IN SPANISH

MADRID (Spain), 1st July 2009. Hermes Traducciones y Servicios Lingüísticos, SL, has been awarded the Linguistic Quality Certificate by the Foundation for Urgent Spanish (Fundéu). In order to obtain this renowned certificate, Fundéu thoroughly revised Hermes Traducciones' website in Spanish and checked its linguistic quality. At Hermes we are very proud of the positive results of that revision and linguistic audit, which is a significant milestone in Spanish translation industry, as Hermes is the first Spanish translation company in obtaining this certificate and one of the few companies of every Spanish industry which have it. This quality certification is added to our double quality certification for translation services (EN-15038 and ISO 9001), which proves Hermes' commitment with overall quality.

In addition, this certificate is another real incentive to continue to deliver the maximum linguistic quality to our customers in our professional projects.

Fundéu BBVA is a non-profit institution whose main goal is working on the correct usage of Spanish language, specifically in the media. As stated in its website: 'Fundéu, which started its activities in February, 2005 in Madrid (Spain), is the result of an agreement between Agencia EFE (the most important news agency in Spanish in the world) and BBVA (one of the most famous and international Spanish banks). Both institutions are conscious of the value and importance of Spanish language in the world, and want to keep its international prestige'. This foundation is an essential step for language unity, so it collaborates with the Royal Academy of Spanish Language, Cervantes Institute and other foundations dealing with Spanish language.
